Report for the RRC & YRC Programme (2021 - 2022)

S.No	Date	Name of the activity	Place of activity
1	1.11.2021	Vaccination Camp	MBA Seminar Hall

Safely managed water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) services are an essential part of preventing and protecting human health during infectious diseases outbreaks, including the current COVID -19 pandemic. One of the most cost- effective strategies for increasing pandemic preparedness, especially in resource-constrained settings, is investing in core public health infrastructure, including water and sanitation systems. Good WASH and waste management practices, that are consistently applied, serve as barriers to human-to-human transmission of the COVID-19 virus in homes, communities, health care facilities, schools, and other public spaces.

According to a WHO/UNICEF technical brief on WASH and waste management for COVID-19:

- Frequent and proper hand hygiene is one of the most important measures that can be used to prevent infection with the COVID-19 virus. WASH services should enable more frequent and regular hand hygiene by improving facilities and using proven behavior change techniques.
- WHO guidance on the safe management of drinking water and sanitation services applies to the COVID-19 outbreak. Measures that go above and beyond these recommendations are not needed.
- Many co-benefits will be realized by safely managing WASH services and applying good hygiene practices. Such efforts will prevent other infectious diseases, which cause millions of deaths each year.

Immunity after COVID-19 vaccination

- There is still a lot we are learning about COVID-19 vaccines and CDC is constantly reviewing evidence and updating guidance. We don't know how long protection lasts for those who are vaccinated.
- If you get COVID-19, you also risk giving it to loved ones who may get very sick. Getting a COVID-19 vaccine is a safer choice.

Report for the RRC & YRC Programme (2021 - 2022)

S.No	Date	Name of the activity	Place of activity
1	27.11.2021	ONLINE WEBINAR ON ACCESS TO DIABETES CARE	ONLINE MODE

World Diabetes Day was launched in 1991 by the International Diabetes Federation and the World Health Organization (WHO) in response to the rapid rise of diabetes around the world. Diabetes mellitus (DM), more often just called Diabetes, is a group of metabolic lifestyle disorders and diseases in which a person has high blood sugar levels over an extended period of time. This is either because the islets of Langerhans, which are found in the pancreas, do not produce the required glucose-regulating peptide-hormone or, in some cases, because the cells of the body cannot or do not respond to the glucose-regulating hormone. Diabetes is also alternatively known as high blood glucose, a condition in which the body doesn't properly process or make use of food as fuel or as a source of energy. There are a variety of physical symptoms that are associated with overly high blood sugar levels in the body. Some of these symptoms include increased levels of thirst, a frequent need to urinate and increased levels of hunger.

Dr.R.M.Manoj MBBS., Medical Officer at King's Institute Guindy, the occasion by delivering his speech will serve to amplify the message about the importance of increasing access to diabetes care to improve diabetes management, prevent complications".

There are three known main types of diabetes mellitus, namely:

Type 1 diabetes, Type 2 diabetes, and Gestational diabetes:

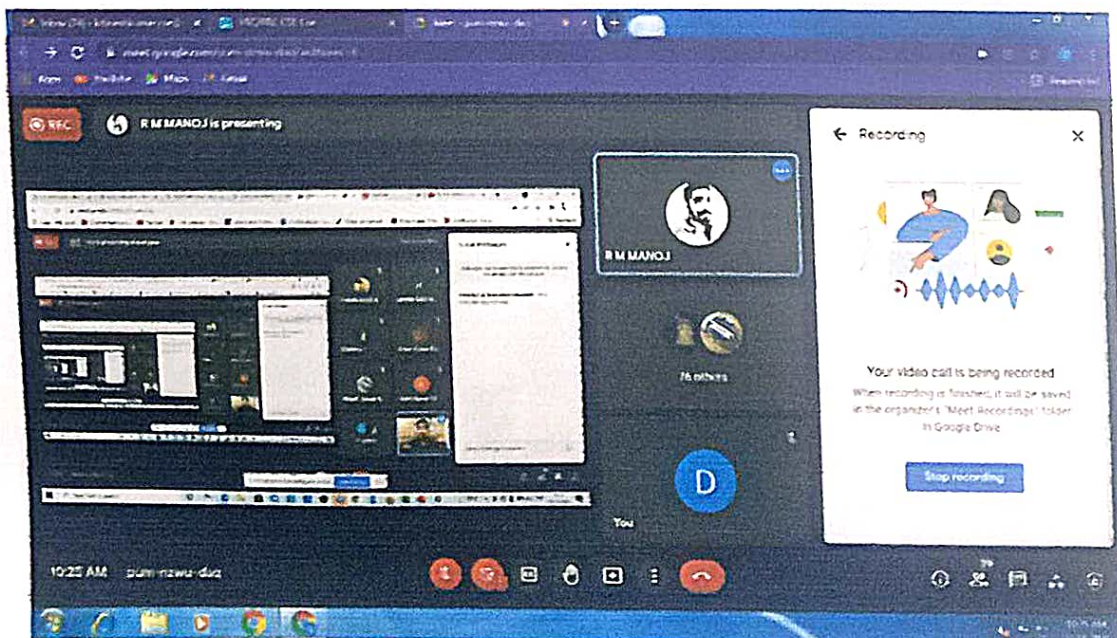

- Type 1 Diabetes mellitus comes about as a direct result of the pancreas not manufacturing the glucose-regulating hormone. This particular form of diabetes was previously called "juvenile diabetes". To date, the cause of type 1 diabetes has yet to be discovered and remains unknown.
- Type 2 Diabetes mellitus begins with resistance to the pancreatic produced hormone, and the cells of the body failing to respond to the hormone. Progression of the disease may cause a lack of the hormone to also develop. This form of diabetes was previously known as "adult-onset diabetes".
- Out of all three types of diabetes, the most common is Gestational diabetes. This particular form of diabetes is brought on by overly excessive body weight and a total lack of or severely insufficient physical exercise. It is also known to occur in pregnant women, who have no previous history of diabetes but have developed excessively high blood sugar levels whilst going through their pregnancy. Diabetes can cause a vast number of chronic health complications if left untreated. Some of these complications can be very severe. They can include diabetic ketoacidosis – when this happens the body manufactures high levels of blood acids called ketones, breaking down fat and muscle for energy. The more ketones in the blood, a person becomes, left untreated it can lead to swelling of the brain, excessive dehydration and coma. Hyperosmolar hyperglycemic state or HHS; here high blood sugar levels create high osmolarity but without serious ketoacidosis, its symptoms include bodily weakness, dehydration, leg cramps and visual impairment. Death is also a possibility of untreated diabetes.

How can we prevent diabetes naturally:

Start with these 6 tips:

1. Cut sugar and refined carbohydrates from your diet. Eating foods high in refined carbohydrates and sugar increases blood sugar and insulin levels, which may lead to diabetes over time.
2. Quit smoking if you are a current tobacco user.
3. Watch your portions.
4. Drink water.
5. Eat fiber.

S.No	Date	Name of the activity	Place of activity
1.	14.12.2021	National Energy Conservation Day	Online Mode

Objective:

National Conservation Day focuses on making people aware of global warming and climate change and promoting efforts towards saving energy resources.

Programme:

Mr.G.SENTHILRAJAN, Associate Professor/EEE, Sengunthar Engineering College (Autonomous), Tiruchengode, graced the occasion by delivering his speech emphasizing on the need and significance of Energy conservation should be rooted in the behavior of every human being to get more effect towards the plan of energy conservation.

- ❖ Energy Conservation National Energy Conservation Day in India is celebrated to aware people about the importance of energy as well as saving or conserving the more energy by using less energy. The exact means of energy conservation is using less energy by avoiding the unnecessary uses of energy. Using energy efficiently is very necessary to save it for the future usage.
- ❖ One can save the energy by deeply taking care of it such as turning off the unnecessarily running fans, lights, submersible, heater, combining car trips or other electric things of daily usage. These are the more easier and efficient way to save extra uses of energy thus playing the great role towards the campaign of national energy conservation.
- ❖ Energy conservation is the only way which helps in replacing the non-renewable resources of energy with the renewable energy. In order to aware the energy users for less energy consumption as well as to make efficient energy conservation, energy or carbon taxes has been employed by the government in different countries. Energy Conservation Measures Windows are the big energy conservation contributing factors other than thermal curtains, Smart windows or films.

- ❖ A big amount of energy can be saved by the natural lightings and compact fluorescent lamp or CFL (15W consumes only 1/4th of the energy consumed by other means), Fluorescent bulbs, Linear fluorescent retrofit, Solar charged flashlight, Sky lights, Smart windows, LED lighting and Solar lights. Water conservation also leads to the better energy conservation. For example; natural wool insulation, house insulation, cotton insulation, VOCs in fiberglass insulation, thermal insulation, cellulose insulation and etc.
- ❖ The Celebration of National Energy Conservation Day to make the campaign of national energy conservation more effective and special all over the India, variety of energy conservation competitions are organized by the government or other organizations around the living areas of normal people as they are the main target of the campaign. At many places the various painting competitions on energy conservation day is held by the student or member of the organizations at school, state, regional or national level.
- ❖ Energy needs for the country should be worked out on the short term and long term durations also. Energy conservation is the decision and practice of using less energy, use of adaptive and mitigation strategies, mechanisms like switching to 100% green power, saving energy, optimise diet, avoid plastic, shrink your digital footprint, avoid flying, make sustainable investments, protect our forests and plant more trees etc.

Calculation

- An ordinary bulb of 100 watts used 8 hours per day.
- Total power consumed by the bulb throughout a year in kwh is  $(100 \times 8 \times 365) / 1000 = 292$  kwh (Units)
- Let us assume the cost per unit is Rs 5/-
- Total cost is  $292 \times 5 = \text{Rs } 1460/-$

1.	29.12.2021	ENVIRONMENTAL POLLUTION CONTROL	Online Mode

Objective:

The main objective is to make people aware of changes in Water, air, noise and its affect in the environment.

Programme:

Dr.K.Sivakumar,M.Sc.,Ph.D, professor & head, dept of chemistry, Adhiyamaan college of engineering, graced the occasion by delivering his speech on environmental pollution control .

- Pollution is the introduction of contaminants into the natural environment that cause adverse change. Pollution can take the form of any substance (solid, liquid, or gas) or energy (such as radioactivity, heat, sound, or light). Pollutants, the components of pollution, can be either foreign substances/energies or naturally occurring contaminants. Although environmental pollution can be caused by natural events, the word pollution generally implies that the contaminants have an anthropogenic source—that is, a source created by human activities.
- Pollution is often classed as point source or nonpoint source pollution. In 2015, pollution killed 9 million people worldwide.

- Major forms of pollution include air pollution, light pollution, litter, noise pollution, plastic pollution, soil contamination, radioactive contamination, thermal pollution, visual pollution, and water pollution.
- Adverse air quality can kill many organisms, including humans. Ozone pollution can cause respiratory disease, cardiovascular disease, throat inflammation, chest pain, and congestion. Water pollution causes approximately 14,000 deaths per day, mostly due to contamination of drinking water by untreated sewage in developing countries.
- An estimated 500 million Indians have no access to a proper toilet, Over ten million people in India fell ill with waterborne illnesses in 2013, and 1,535 people died, most of them children. Nearly 500 million Chinese lack access to safe drinking water. A 2010 analysis estimated that 1.2 million people died prematurely each year in China because of air pollution.
- Noise pollution induces hearing loss, high blood pressure, stress, and sleep disturbance. Mercury has been linked to developmental deficits in children and neurologic symptoms. Older people are majorly exposed to diseases induced by air pollution. Those with heart or lung disorders are at additional risk. Children and infants are also at serious risk. Lead and other heavy metals have been shown to cause neurological problems. Chemical and radioactive substances can cause cancer and as well as birth defects.
- Air pollution is the contamination of air due to the presence of substances in the atmosphere that are harmful to the health of humans and other living beings, or cause damage to the climate or to materials. There are many different types of air pollutants, such as gases (including ammonia, carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, nitrous oxides, methane, carbon dioxide and chlorofluorocarbons), particulates (both organic and inorganic), and biological molecules. Air pollution can cause diseases, allergies, and even death to humans.

- It can also cause harm to other living organisms such as animals and food crops, and may damage the natural environment (for example, climate change, ozone depletion or habitat degradation) or built environment (for example, acid rain). Both human activity and natural processes can generate air pollution.

Objective:

The objective of World Braille Day is to emphasize upon the importance of accessibility and independence for people who are blind or visually impaired.

Programme:

R.Premnath, B.E, Business Development Manager, Securax technologies, graced the occasion by delivering his speech on Barriers of blind people in today's world on account of "WORLD BRAILLE DAY".

World Braille Day 2022: World Braille Day is observed annually on January 4 to highlight the significance of Braille as a means of communication for blind people and those who are partially sighted. World Braille Day 2022 has been marked by the United Nations since 2019. World Braille Day is also celebrated globally to mark the birth anniversary of Louis Braille.

He was a French educator who invented the Braille System after being blinded at a very young age. Before the Braille system, the blind and visually impaired people used the Haüy System which was a Latin system designed on thick paper or leather.

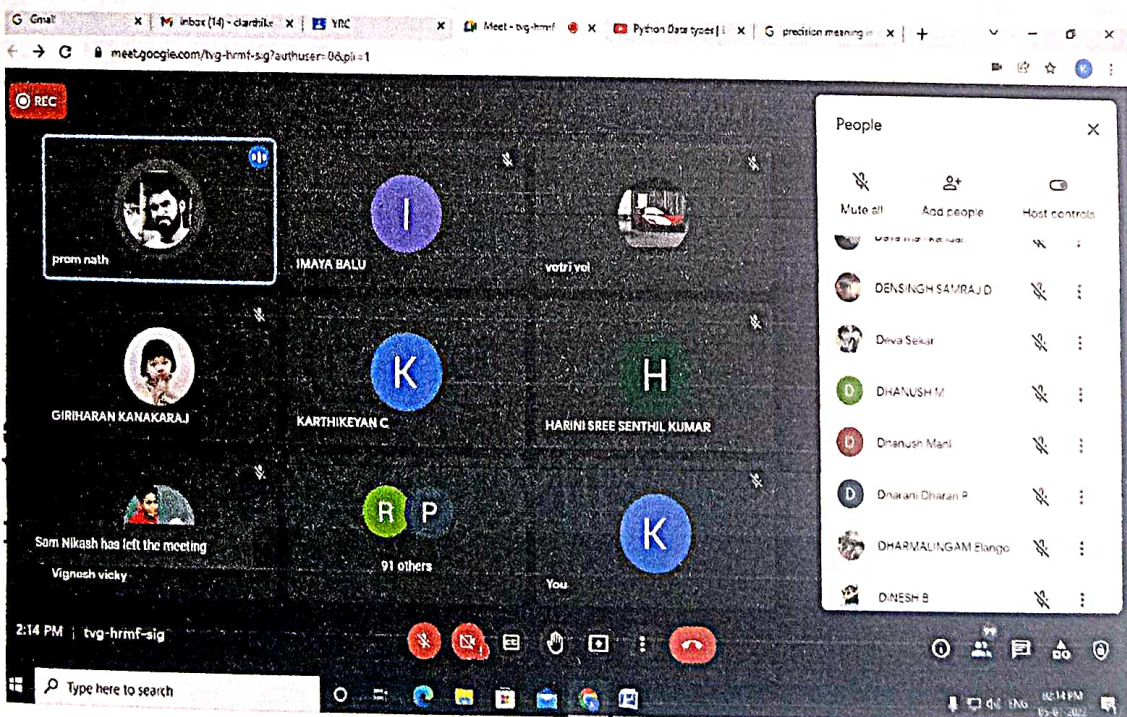

However, the System allowed the people to read but not write. The lack of technicality of the Haüy System led Louis Braille to develop a user-friendly Braille System.

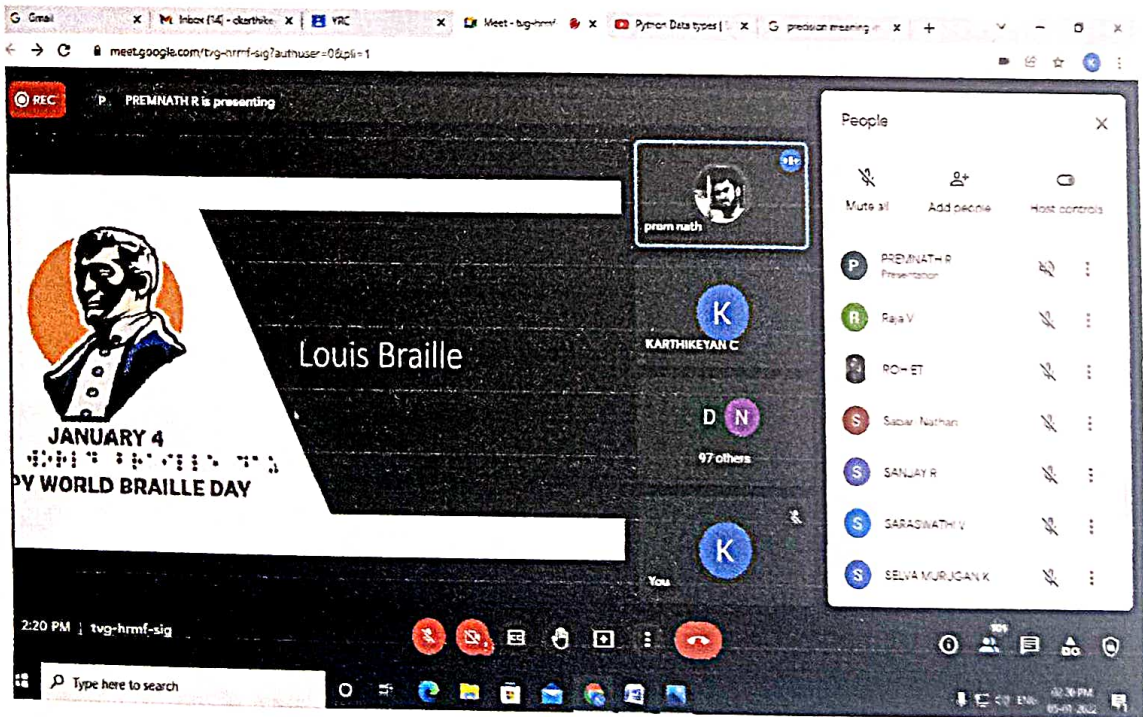

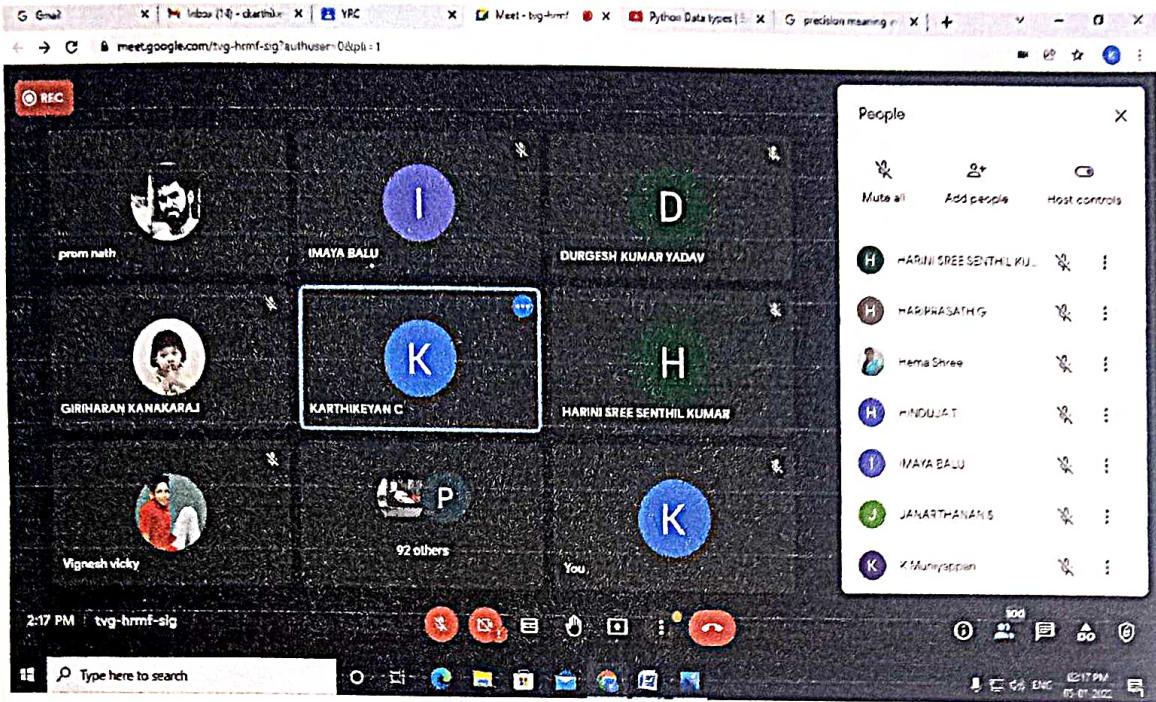

World Braille Day 2022 is observed to raise awareness of the significance of Braille as a means of communication with a full realization of the human rights for partially sighted or blind people.

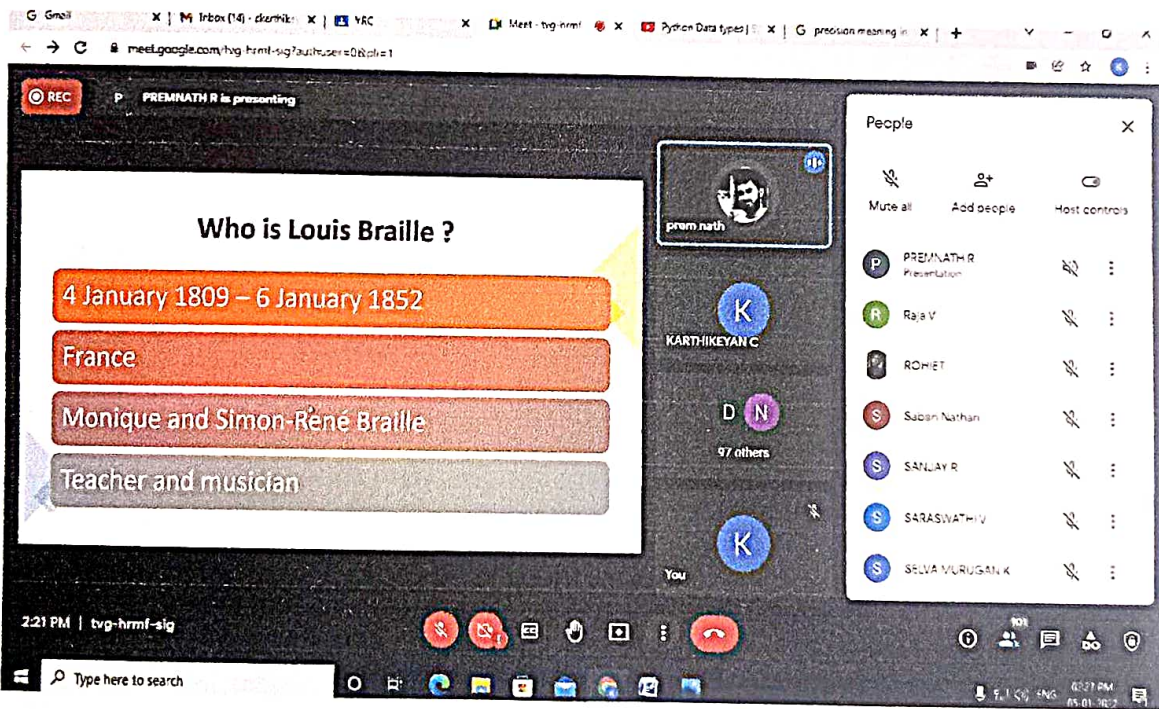

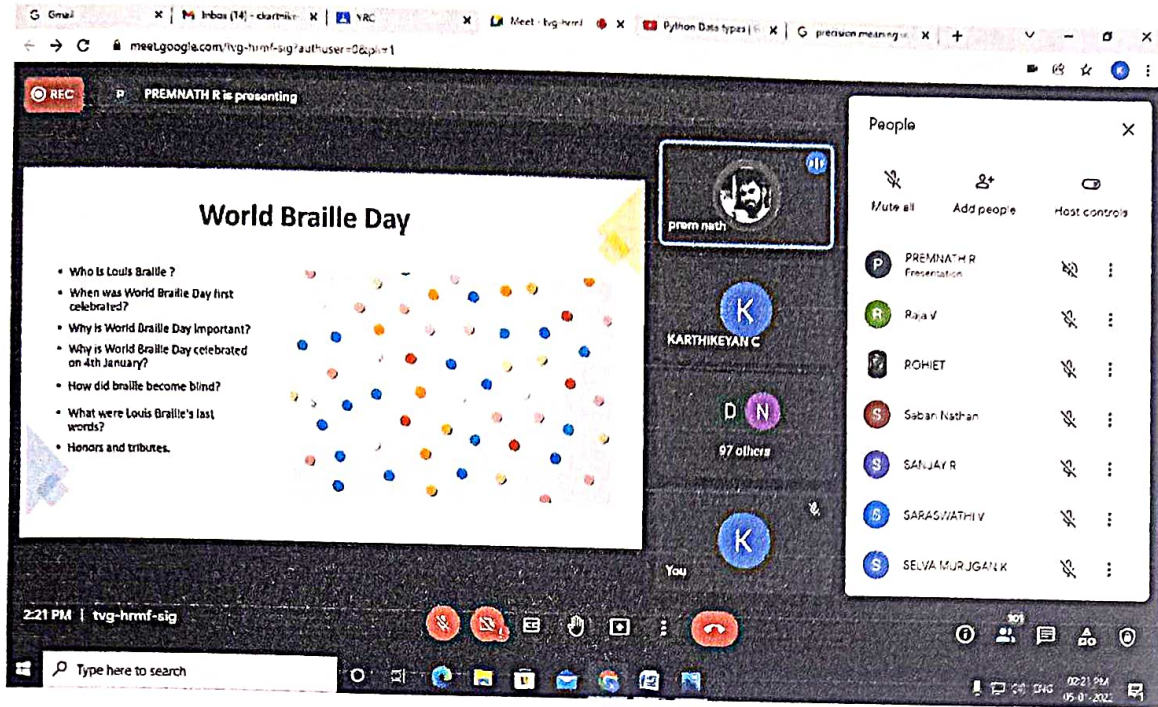

Braille Day provides an opportunity to facilitate discussions on the subject of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, Prevention, Identification as well as the rehabilitation of the eyes disease. World Braille Day also brings to attention the difficulties faced by blind and partially sighted people in their day-to-day life. Braille Day also highlights the negligence practiced by the authorities towards blind people.

As per the report by the World Health Organisation, visually impaired people have been experiencing higher poverty rates and end up with a lifetime of inequality. The problem has particularly increased during the pandemic.

The COVID-19 pandemic has also revealed that how significant it is to produce essential information in an accessible format, including in audible and Braille format. The absence of such provisions can lead to a higher risk of contamination for visually impaired people because of a lack of access to the precautions and guidelines.

Objective:

The main objective is to create awareness about the symptoms, causes and preventives of the pandemic disease HIV/AIDS that has taken unprecedented number of lives.

Programme:

Mrs.T.Malathi, Assistant Professor, Department of Pharmacology, Senghundhar College of Pharmacy, graced the occasion by delivering his speech on awareness about World AIDS Day.

- Every year, on 1 December, the world commemorates World AIDS Day. People around the world unite to show support for people living with and affected by HIV and to remember those who lost their lives to AIDS.
- The theme for the 2021 observance is "Ending the HIV Epidemic: Equitable Access, Everyone's Voice".
- World AIDS Day was first observed in 1988. Each year, organizations and individuals across the world bring attention to the HIV epidemic, endeavor to increase HIV awareness and knowledge, speak out against HIV stigma, and call for an increased response to move toward ending the HIV Epidemic in the world.
- This World AIDS Day, UNAIDS is highlighting the urgent need to end the inequalities that drive AIDS and other pandemics around the world.
- Without bold action against inequalities, the world risks missing the targets to end AIDS by 2030, as well as a prolonged COVID-19 pandemic and a spiralling social and economic crisis.
- Forty years since the first AIDS cases were reported, HIV still threatens the world. Today, the world is off track from delivering on the shared commitment to end AIDS by 2030 not because of a lack of knowledge or tools to beat AIDS, but because of structural inequalities that obstruct proven solutions to HIV prevention and treatment.
- Economic, social, cultural and legal inequalities must be ended as a matter of urgency if we are to end AIDS by 2030.

- Although there is a perception that a time of crisis is not the right time to prioritize tackling the underlying social injustices, it is clear that without doing so the crisis cannot be overcome.
- Tackling inequalities is a long-standing global promise, the urgency of which has only increased. In 2015, all countries pledged to reduce inequalities within and between countries as part of the Sustainable Development Goals. The Global AIDS Strategy 2021–2026: End Inequalities, End AIDS and the Political Declaration on AIDS adopted at the 2021 United Nations High-Level Meeting on AIDS have ending inequalities at their core.
- As well as being central to ending AIDS, tackling inequalities will advance the human rights of key populations and people, who are living with HIV, make societies better prepared to beat COVID-19 and other pandemics and support economic recovery and stability. Fulfilling the promise to tackle inequalities will save millions of lives and will benefit society as a whole.
- But ending inequalities requires transformative change. Political, economic and social policies need to protect the rights of everyone and pay attention to the needs of disadvantaged and marginalized communities.
- We know how to beat AIDS, we know what the inequalities obstructing progress are and we know how to tackle them. The policies to address inequalities can be implemented, but they require leaders to be bold.
- Governments must now move from commitment to action. Governments must promote inclusive social and economic growth. They must eliminate discriminatory laws, policies and practices in order to ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities. It is time for governments to keep their promises. They must act now, and we must make them accountable.
- This World AIDS Day let's remind our governments that global inequalities affect us all, no matter who we are or where we are from. This World AIDS Day let's demand action to end inequalities and end AIDS and all other pandemics that thrive on inequalities.
- The outcomes of this webinar are to spread awareness among faculties and students to lead a safe healthy life and encouraged to show support for people living with HIV and remember those who have died.

Programme:

Mrs.R.RESHMA M.E., Assistant Professor/MEE, Sengunthar College of Engineering Tiruchengode, graced the occasion by delivering her speech emphasizing on the need and significance of Immunization to prevents death every year in all age groups from diseases like diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), covid 19, influenza and measles. It is one of the most successful and cost-effective public health interventions.

General aspects:

- Each year, over 1.5 million children die from diseases that are preventable with readily available vaccines.
- These diseases include measles, meningitis caused by Haemophilus influenzae type B (Hib), diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), yellow fever, polio and hepatitis B. New vaccines against other illnesses, such as pneumonia and diarrhoea caused by rotavirus, have been developed and are now more widely used.
- Children who are immunized are protected from these dangerous diseases, which can often lead to disability or death. All children have the right to this protection.
- Every girl and boy needs to be fully immunized. Early protection is critical. The immunizations in the child's first year and into the second year are especially important. It is also essential that pregnant women are immunized against tetanus to protect themselves as well as their newborns.

Key Messages - A new syringe must be used for every person being immunized. People should demand a new syringe for every vaccination.

- Sharing syringes and needles, even among family members, can spread life-threatening diseases. A new syringe should be used for every person.
- All immunizations in any setting, including emergencies, should be given with auto-disable syringes – syringes that can be used only once.
- Parents and other caregivers should demand a new syringe for every vaccination. Health workers must discard the syringes and any other waste by-products safely.

Disease can spread quickly when people are crowded together.

Emergencies that make people flee their homes often lead to the spread of communicable diseases. Therefore, all displaced children under 15 years of age should be immediately immunized, especially for measles, at the first point of contact or settlement.

If routine child immunization has been disrupted, a trained health worker should be consulted to complete the immunizations according to national guidelines. If the child's vaccination record is lost and the parents do not remember which vaccines the child has received, it is safe to repeat doses.

The vaccination card of a child (or an adult) should be presented to the health worker before every immunization.

- It is important to follow the vaccination schedule in accordance with national guidelines. Children should be immunized at the recommended ages and should receive subsequent doses at recommended intervals.
- When a child is immunized, the health worker should record the vaccine, which dose it is (first, second, etc.) and the date on an immunization or health card given to the parents or other caregiver. The immunizations should also be recorded and kept at the health clinic. It is important for the parents or other caregiver to keep the immunization card and bring it with them the next time the child is vaccinated. With it, the health worker can record which vaccines the child has received and the date they were given. The health worker can also provide information to the parents or other caregiver on vaccines that are missing or remaining.

All pregnant women and infants need to be immunized against tetanus.

- Immunizing a woman or adolescent with at least two doses of tetanus toxoid before or during pregnancy protects the newborn for the first few weeks of life and protects the mother.
- At 6 weeks old, a baby needs the first dose of tetanus toxoid (the tetanus component of the DTP (DPT) vaccine) to extend the protection received from the mother against tetanus.

It is safe to immunize a child who has a minor illness or a disability or is malnourished.

- Many parents do not take a child to be immunized because the child has a fever, cough, cold, diarrhoea or some other illness. However, it is safe to immunize a child who has a minor illness.
- It is also safe to immunize a child who has a disability or is malnourished. If a child is HIV-positive or suspected to be HIV-positive, a trained health worker should be consulted about which vaccines to give the child.
- After an injection, the child may cry or develop a fever, a minor rash or a small sore. This is normal and shows that the vaccine is working. Children under 6 months of age should breastfeed frequently; older children should be given plenty of liquids and foods. If the child develops a high fever (over 38 degrees Celsius) the child should be taken to a trained health worker or health centre.

It is safe for a pregnant woman to be immunized against tetanus. She should be immunized according to this schedule:

First dose: As soon as she knows she is pregnant.

Second dose: One month after the first dose, and no later than two weeks before her due date.

Third dose: Six months to one year after the second dose, or during the next pregnancy.

Fourth dose: One year after the third dose, or during a subsequent pregnancy.

Fifth dose: One year after the fourth dose, or during a subsequent pregnancy.

After five properly spaced doses, the mother is protected for life and her children are protected for the first few weeks of life.

- BCG (Bacille Calmette-Guérin) vaccine offers partial protection against some forms of tuberculosis and leprosy.
- DTP (DPT) protects against diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (whooping cough); many countries use DTPHepBHib, a five-in-one combination, vaccine also known as a pentavalent vaccine.
- This is only for those receiving Rotateq vaccine, which has a three-dose schedule. A two-dose schedule is recommended for the Rotarix vaccine.
- A minimum gap of one month should be given between the first and second doses of measles vaccine.

For the recent WHO recommendations for routine immunization,

As new vaccines become available, more vaccines are recommended for all countries. But some vaccines are only needed in countries where certain diseases are present. Parents and health workers should follow the locally recommended immunization schedule. If a child does not complete the full series of immunizations in the first and into the second year of life, it is extremely important to have the child fully immunized as soon as possible. This can be done during special campaigns.

In some countries, additional vaccine doses, called 'booster shots', are offered after the first year of life. These help to sustain the effectiveness of the vaccine so the child is protected longer.

Immunization protects against several dangerous diseases:

Immunization protects children against some of the most dangerous diseases of childhood. All children, including those who are disabled, need to be vaccinated. A child is immunized by vaccines, which are injected or given by mouth. The vaccines work by building up the child's defences against diseases. Immunization only works if given before the disease strikes.

A child who is not immunized is very likely to get measles, whooping cough and many other diseases that can kill. Children who survive these diseases are weakened and may not grow well. They may be permanently disabled. They may die later from malnutrition and other illnesses.

All children need to be immunized with BCG (Bacille Calmette-Guérin) vaccine, which offers partial protection against some forms of tuberculosis and leprosy.

All children need to be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis with DTP vaccine (also known as DPT vaccine). Diphtheria causes infection of the upper respiratory tract, which in severe cases may lead to breathing difficulties and death.

To protect the child during and beyond the first year of life, the immunizations in the chart below are necessary. These are most effective when given at the ages specified, or as close to those ages as possible.

Immunization schedule for infants

Age at immunization	Location	Immunization
At birth	All countries	BCG
	Some countries	Hepatitis B, Polio
6-8 weeks	All countries	DTP (also known as DPT), polio
	Most countries	Hepatitis B and Hib
10-12 weeks	Some countries	Pneumococcal (conjugate), rotavirus
	All countries	DTP, polio
	Most countries	Hepatitis B and Hib
14-24 weeks	Some countries	Pneumococcal (conjugate), rotavirus
	All countries	DTP, polio
	Most countries	Hepatitis B and Hib
9 months	Some countries	Pneumococcal (conjugate), rotavirus
	Some countries	Yellow fever
9-15 months	All countries	Measles
12-18 months	Some countries	Mumps and rubella
15 months-6 years	All countries	Measles

Note:

- Parents, caregivers and health workers should follow the national immunization schedule.

- Although there has been progress in the past years in immunizing children, in 2015 nearly 19.4 million children are still missing out on basic vaccines.
- Parents or other caregivers need to know why immunization is important, the recommended immunization schedule, and where their children can be immunized.
- Parents or other caregivers need to know that it is safe to immunize a child who has a minor illness or a disability or is suffering from malnutrition.

immunization need:

1. Immunization is urgent. Every child should complete the recommended series of immunizations. Early protection is critical; the immunizations in the first year and into the second year are especially important. All parents or other caregivers should follow the advice of a trained health worker on when to complete the required immunizations.
2. Immunization protects against several dangerous diseases. A child who is not immunized is more likely to become sick, permanently disabled or undernourished, and could possibly die.
3. It is safe to immunize a child who has a minor illness or a disability or is malnourished.
4. All pregnant women and their newborns need to be protected against tetanus. Even if a woman was immunized earlier, she needs to check with a trained health worker for advice on tetanus toxoid immunization.
5. A new syringe must be used for every person being immunized. People should demand a new syringe for every vaccination.
6. Disease can spread quickly when people are crowded together. All children living in congested conditions, particularly in refugee or disaster situations, should be immunized immediately, especially against measles.
7. The vaccination card of a child (or an adult) should be presented to the health worker before every immunization.

immunization schedule:

Children must be immunized early in life. It is essential that infants, both girls and boys, get all recommended vaccines at the right time. Some vaccines require multiple doses for full protection. It is important for every child to complete the full number of these immunizations.

1	31.01.2022	Role of Women in India- Celebration of 73 rd Republic Day	ONLINE MODE

Reason About Celebration of Republic Day

Republic Day is celebrated on 26th January every year to mark the day on which our constitution came into effect in 1950. After this day our country truly became democratic and independent.

Flying Officer M.Indumathi, M.E., Associate NCC Officer, NCC Airwing coordinator, SSM College of Engineering, Komarapalayam, Namakkal, graced the occasion by delivering her speech emphasizing on the need and significance of the Women role in India. Topic on "Role of Women in India".

Objective

1. The objective of Feminism in India is a set of movements aimed at defining, establishing, and defending equal political, economic, and social rights and opportunities for women in India. It is the pursuit of women's rights within the society of India.
2. Constitution of India guarantees equal status to all citizens of India including women under article 14 and does not distinguish or discriminate between a man or a woman. Moreover, article 15 empowers the government to make special provisions for women. Women are free to participate in all the religious, cultural, economic and political activities.
3. Women in Independent India have maximum rights but many of them are not conscious about their rights. Uneducated women have a lack of awareness of their rights. According to a study conducted by Flying Officer M.Indumathi, it can be concluded that the level of awareness of rights depends upon these 4 aspects –
  - Individual background of women
  - The social environment of women
  - The economic base of women

• Subjective perception of women

4. This day was celebrated Webinar was conducted though online. Around 97 students participated in the program. This endeavor aimed at creating awareness among the students on the importance of women empowerment.

Objective:

International Day of Commemoration in memory of the victims of the Holocaust (International Holocaust Remembrance Day) is observed on 27 January. In 2022, the theme guiding the United Nations Holocaust remembrance and education is "Memory, Dignity and Justice". The objective of the day is to commemorate the anniversary of the tragedy of the Holocaust that occurred during the Second World War.

Programme:

Mr.V.SARAVANAKUMAR, Assistant Professor, Department of MBA, Sengunthar Engineering College graced the occasion by delivering his speech emphasizing to create awareness about Commemoration of Holocaust during second world war.

- ❖ A genocide occurred during World War II in which Nazi Germany, aided by its collaborators, systematically murdered some six million European Jews, around two-thirds of the Jewish population of Europe, between 1941 and 1945. United Nations designated the day in 2005 to serve as a date for official commemoration of the victims of the Nazi regime and to promote Holocaust education throughout the world.
- ❖ On November 1, 2005, the UN General Assembly adopted resolution 60/7 to designate January 27 as International Holocaust Remembrance Day (IHRD)

- ❖ The International Holocaust Remembrance Day, or the International Day in Memory of the Victims of the Holocaust, is an international memorial day on 27 January that commemorates the victims of the Holocaust, which resulted in the murder of one third of the Jewish people, along with countless members of other minorities between 1933 and 1945 by Nazi Germany, an attempt to implement their "final solution" to the Jewish question. 27 January was chosen to commemorate the date that Auschwitz concentration camp was liberated by the Red Army in 1945.
- ❖ The day remembers the killing of six million Jews, two-thirds of Europe's Jewish population, and millions of others by the Nazi regime and its collaborators. It was designated by United Nations General Assembly resolution 60/7 on 1 November 2005. The resolution came after a special session was held earlier that year on 24 January to mark the 60th anniversary of the liberation of the Nazi concentration camps and the end of the Holocaust.
- ❖ Many countries have instituted their own Holocaust Memorial Days. Many, such as the UK's Holocaust Memorial Day, also fall on 27 January, while others, such as Israel's Yom HaShoah, are observed at other times of the year.
- ❖ Resolution 60/7 establishing 27 January as International Holocaust Remembrance Day urges every member nation of the U.N. to honor the memory of Holocaust victims, six million Jews, "one third of the Jewish people, along with countless members of other minorities," and encourages the development of educational programs about Holocaust history to help prevent future acts of genocide. It rejects any denial of the Holocaust as an event and condemns all manifestations of religious intolerance, incitement, harassment or violence against persons or communities based on ethnic origin or religious belief. It also calls for actively preserving the Holocaust sites that served as Nazi death camps, concentration camps, forced labor camps and prisons, as well as for establishing a U.N. programme of outreach and mobilization of society for Holocaust remembrance and education.

- ❖ Resolution 60/7 and the International Holocaust Day was an initiative of the State of Israel. Minister of Foreign Affairs of the State of Israel, Silvan Shalom, was the head of the delegation of Israel to the United Nations.
- ❖ The first attempt at a Holocaust remembrance day was a 1948 decision by the Israeli chief rabbinate that the 10th of Tevet—an early winter fast day commemorating the beginning of the siege that led to the destruction of Jerusalem in 586 BCE—would be the day to recite the memorial Kaddish. It failed because it had no intrinsic connection to the Holocaust.
- ❖ In 2022, the theme guiding the United Nations Holocaust remembrance and education is “Memory, Dignity and Justice”. Holocaust commemoration and education is a global imperative in the third decade of the 21st century. The writing of history and the act of remembering brings dignity and justice to those whom the perpetrators of the Holocaust intended to obliterate. Safeguarding the historical record, remembering the victims, challenging the distortion of history often expressed in contemporary antisemitism, are critical aspects of claiming justice after atrocity crimes. The theme encompasses these concerns.
- ❖ Holocaust commemorative and educational activities will draw attention to the actions taken by Holocaust survivors in the immediate years following the devastation and brutality of the Holocaust, to reclaim their rights, their history, their cultural heritage and traditions, and their dignity. The role played by institutions and individuals in supporting survivors, the long-reaching impact of the Holocaust on survivors’ families, and the impact of the Holocaust on the shaping of human rights policy and interventions will be explored. The theme encourages action to challenge hatred, strengthen solidarity and champion compassion. The Holocaust and the United Nations Outreach Programme is an expression of the unwavering commitment of the United Nations to promoting human rights, to countering antisemitism and racism, and to preventing future genocide.

Entrepreneurship Development Cell, Sengunthar Engineering College organized a Seminar on "HOW TO MAKE A PATENT ON AN IDEA" as a part of celebration of WORLD INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY DAY on 26.04.2022 at 11 00 a.m. The speaker of the webinar was an eminent personality Dr.P.PONMURUGAN., who is working as Associate Professor in Department of EEE and IQAC - Coordinator, Sengunthar Engineering College (Autonomous), Tiruchengode.

The webinar was organized under the guidance of Dr.P.Ponmurugan, Vice President - IIC and Mr. N.Thiru Senthil Adhiban, Chief Coordinator – IIC.

Then Dr.K.Umadevi, President - IIC welcomed all participants on the behalf of EDC Cell and then introduced the resource person by Mr.M.Soundar Rajan, Internal IIC-Cordinator.

During the webinar, Speaker provided with the wide range of patent specifications aspects such as the requirements for grant of patents, registration and various other procedures for the draft and claims of patents. The 5 requisites for the grant of patents are clearly explained in the webinar which includes, the disclosure of the invention (Section 10 Rule 13 and Section 2(1) (ac), Novelty of the patent, the innovation has to be inventive, Utility of the innovation and prior use of the innovation. These are essential for the grant of patents and non-fulfillment of the same can be a ground for the disqualification of the same. The next major object focused by the sir is, the necessity of the patent search and importance of the R&D. It is very necessary to ensure the nonexistence of the opposition for the same. The proposed claim has to be compared with the pre-existing similar ones and has to be drafted accordingly. The patent specification is explained in two major parts, such as Specification and Drawings. The claims have to be precise and definite to maintain the novelty and specific recognition. In the next part it is explained about the contents necessary for the patent specifications. The contents include "Title, Background of the Invention, Summary of the Invention, Description of the drawing, Detailed description, Claims, Abstract (150 words) and Drawings". The general procedures of the patent claims are necessary to be drafted maintaining the differentiation of the design and claimed invention.

Concluding the session, the limitations of the claim are explained along with answering various questions posted by the students.. The webinar ended with vote of thanks given by Mr.S.Anand Kumar, AP/Civil.

Totally 91 participants from various Institutions and industries attended the seminar. Participants enjoyed the webinar very much.

Best Practices

Provide the web link on the Institutional website regarding the Best practices as per the prescribed format of NAAC

Best Practice - 1

Title of the practice

"Industry Institute Interaction"

Goal

The real embodiment of wisdom lies in the holistic approach of the Educational Institution. In our Institution, the placement cell is functioning effectively for the development of the student's life. To meet the requirements of the society, To update with the latest technology development industry and institute interaction is helped the students to evolve into high order of technocrats, entrepreneurs and each and every student is trained to grow up with right education and unlock the treasure of future. It enhances the perception of the students' thirst for education and broadens their horizons in the challenging and changing world. It also helps the Institution to maintain the quality of its educational Programmes.

The Context

To identify the present day requirements of Engineers and mould them as professionals of first order to meet the demands of the Industry. Developing close links between Industry-Institute by interaction Programs. High priority is given to activities designed to bring out the students innovative ideas to lime light and in turn our students assist Industry to improve and to implement novel techniques.

The Practice

The Placement and Training Cell ensures that the Institution maintains a cordial relationship with Industries. Meetings with personnels from the Industries and Signing of MoUs regarding Training and Consultancy Services produce better results. Faculty members also establish Industry-Institute Relationship during Industrial Visits, Educational Tours and Internship Training Programs. Institution-Industry Interface is established through inviting eminent personalities from the nearby leading Industries so as to enhance the technical knowledge of the students.

Exclusive placement training has been giving to the students from second year onwards by making MOU with leading Industries. The scope of this MoU is for the improvement of industry institute interaction by giving exposure and hands-on experience to the students in technological upgradation, innovation and competitiveness of an industry through internships, project work and placements. Various technical activities are conducted round the year which comprises industrial visits, industrial trainings, internships, R&D center visits and trainings, skill oriented vocational courses etc.

To build good rapport between the industry and the institute, college has Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the industries. This provides industry support to all the department students in regards to industrial training, curriculum designing, conducting guest lectures, sponsoring projects and other related to academic. As of now we have the linkages with more than 300 industries.

The Second year students are trained by Focus 4-D Career Education Private Limited, Coimbatore and the third year students are trained by ATAS, Coimbatore.

However, all students are given a conceptual grounding in core skills and application orientation through real - time projects to ensure their skills are concurrent with market needs. This is done by internal faculty members and Industries who have signed an MOU under Industry-Institute Partnership.

Evidence of Success

This practice is monitored continuously and assessed by the, Department Placement Coordinator, Head of the Department, Director - Corporate Relations and Training, Principal and Correspondent.

The Institution achieved 85% Placement for students by focusing on Students Personality Development, Technical Skills and Domain Knowledge. All the departments Conducted Programs on Personality Development, Add-on Skills, Entrepreneurship and Professional Ethics to make each student competent individuals in the Industry. Alumni meets conducted in order to get their suggestions and ideas of them to improve the quality and outlook of the Institutions as well as to get inspiration among the students. Department of CSE has achieved 100% placement with good salary package in leading MNCs.

Problems Encountered

As most of the students are from rural background, we offer extensive training for all the students right from the entry into the campus till their course completion. During the first year, the students are trained in Spoken English which is essential for communicating. Declining supply of quality faculty members, doctorates as well as exposing the teaching faculty to the Industrial scenario and get them trained in an industry is a big challenge. Lacking of familiarizing the students about the rules and regulations including safety in industrial environment.

It also helps the Institution to maintain the quality of its educational Programmes.

3. The Context

Educational Systems and Methodology are growing at a rapid rate. Simultaneously, the quality of Education is nurtured in the institution by conducting examinations during the lockdown period. The conduction of End Semester Examinations simplifies through the system which was adopted in the college for carrying out the activities of the examination. An online proctored examination enhances the quality of education.

4. The Practice

The best Practices in this system are listed below

- Username and Password for the mock examination and End Semester Examination shared to the students' through their official e-mail. Once a user logs into the system with Username and Password, it takes the students to take a photograph with their details. If the student does not give access to any of these, the student cannot be able to appear for the examination or the remote proctor can disable the examination in due course of time.
- The system uses Artificial intelligence (AI) to detect and record face emotions, eye movements and all activities, without any hindrance to the examinations.

- In addition to auto proctoring by the online examination system, Manual Proctors (Invigilators) continuously watch and monitor the students during the entire duration of the examination.
- The proctor with the help of the system can issue regular warnings on the screen of the student device. The examination is auto submitted after the completion of the total duration of the examination However; students facing any technical issue during the examination can continue upto 15 minutes after the scheduled session time.
- All the actions were closely monitored by the remote proctors during the examination.
- All the Activities were automatically recorded
- Capture of facial photo. During the examination, the AI tool constantly monitors the picture of the student taking the examination with the facial photo captured initially for any mismatch. In case of any mismatch, the system captures the anomaly and a notification to the student / live proctor was also instantly displayed.

5. Evidence of Success

The Evidence for success is seen in the feedback received from the students regarding the examination. Some of their comments are given below:

The main satisfaction is any technical issues the students can contact the Class Advisor immediately to solve it.

Overall performance of the students in their written exam is satisfactory
